DECODED -19 INFOSARS

Bugs always need a way to deliver the data they're gathering to their owners, intercepting near to Russian embassies or Irish Government buildings for example may require the use of a near by building such as a hotel or fake business. so deep bug sweeps should go beyond regular electronics detection to scan for laser beam and microwave transmission setups. These rigs can encode and send data out of a room to an attacker without using traditional methods. Radiofrequency scanners with a wide enough range check for microwaves, and many general-purpose antisurveillance tools feature laser-detection modes
